Dear Member of the Seminary Community:

The following notes are to keep you informed as to the Inter-Seminary activities and opportunities that might be of interest to you.

1. On January 19 about fifty to seventy-five Roman Catholic seminarians from Immaculate Conception Seminary in Darlington, N. J. will be on our campus for the afternoon. Although the 19th is during the examination week, the date was chosen because that was the only week the seminarians could make it and there are no examinations on that Thursday afternoon.

The men from Darlington will arrive in time to eat lunch in the dining hall. After lunch there will be a study and discussion session in the main lounge of the campus center to which the entire seminary community is encouraged to come. The focus of the session will be the council held at Jerusalem which is recorded in Acts. One of the professors from Darlington will speak first and then Dr. Evans from Princeton will speak. After the discussion there will be a worship service in Miller Chapel.

2. "The Role of the Seminary Student in the Shaping of the Future" is the subject of a conference to be conducted for Princeton Seminary students February 3-5, 1967, in New Haven, Connecticutt.

Sponsored by the Inter-Seminary Committee, the conference will be led by members of Ecumenical Associates, a group of people participating in an experimental ministry to the Eastern Regional City (Boston - Washington). Also joining in the conference will be students from Yale Divinity School.

The conference will deal with ways in which science alters one's perception of the world, with the goal of helping to prepare the student for the task of tackling problems, in a technological society.

Some of the questions to be considered are:

1. The function of man in an expanding universe.
2. Mankind's responsibility (if any) in the direction of evolution.
3. How to make the urban milieu a more desirable environment.
4. The effect of cybernetics.

Cost of the conference is $9.00, including room and board. Those desiring further information should contact Wayne Holcomb, 409 Brown Hall and Dick Nathan, 452-9321. Also watch for more detailed information.

3. The next monthly gathering of the New York Inter-Seminary Movement will be held early in February at General Theological Seminary.

4. The American Association of Theological Schools has invited the Inter-Seminary Movement to undertake the preparation of a special student authored issue of their journal, Theological Education, to appear in 1968. Any seminary student wishing to write an article please contact Wayne Holcomb, 409 Brown Hall. Suggestions for articles are to include the following:

1. A student view of teaching methods in Seminaries.
2. Relating Theological Education to changing views of the Ministry.
3. What place does the denominational seminary have today?
4. Seminary responsibility for lay Theological Education.
5. A student view of the Tehological Curriculum.
6. The role of the Seminary in reshaping the social order.
7. What place is there for women in Theological Education and the church?
8. Theological Education and racial justice.
9. Theological Education and Mass Communication.
10. The adequcy of current Field Education programs.
11. The relevance of seminary experience to the modern world.
12. The Seminary's stake in Church renewal.
13. The Seminary's relationship to the University community.

The suggested titles and authors would be reviewed in the National Inter-Seminary Council Meeting in Chicago in the Spring of 1967. Articles are not necessary at this time but a synopsis of the proposed article would be helpful.

Inter-Seminary Committee

PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY · FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1967 · VOL. 6 · No. 3

Roland H. Bainton Delivers L. P. Stone Lectures

The Rev. Dr. Roland H. Bainton, a world renowned specialist in Reformation studies, will deliver the L. P. Stone Lectures on February 6-9. The five lectures will consider the life and work of the sixteenth century Christian humanist, Erasmus of Rotterdam.

The series is entitled "Erasmus and the Strategy of Mediation." All lectures will be delivered in Miller Chapel, according to the following schedule: Monday, February 6, 7:45 p.m.; Tuesday, February 7, 7:45 p.m.; Wednesday, February 8, 1:45 p.m. and 7:45 p.m.; Thursday, February 9, 7:45 p.m.

Dr. Bainton is Titus Street Professor-Emeritus of Ecclesiastical History, the Yale University Divinity School. Born in England, he was educated in the United States. He received the B.A. degree from Whitman College in 1914, and earned both his B.D. and Ph.D. degrees at Yale. Numerous educational institutions have awarded Dr. Bainton honorary degrees, including Meadville Theological Seminary, Oberlin College, Whitman College, Gettysburg College, and the University of Marburg, Germany.

He joined the Yale faculty in 1920 as an instructor, and became an Assistant Professor in 1923 and an Associate Professor in 1932. In 1936 he was named Titus Street Professor of Ecclesiastical History. Professor Bainton retired from that chair in 1962.

Dr. Bainton is an ordained minister of the United Church of Christ, and is an affiliated member of the Society of Friends. He is the author of twenty-two books on the subject of the history of Christianity. Most widely read are Here I Stand, a biography of Martin Luther, Church of Our Fathers, The Travail of Religious Liberty, Hunted Heretic, The Reformation of the Sixteenth Century, Yale and the Ministry, and Pilgrim Parson, a biography of his father. Seven of Dr. Bainton's books received wide circulation as paperbacks. His articles have appeared in many religious, scholarly, and popular journals.

Chapel Footnotes

On Thursday, February 9, Morning Chapel will be led by the Rev. George W. Ahr, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Trenton. This will be Bishop Ahr's first visit to the campus of Princeton Seminary.

The first in the guest preacher series for the Second Semester will be the Rev. Dr. Bryant M. Kirkland of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City. He will lead in worship and give the sermon on Wednesday, February 15, at 10:00 a.m. A biography will appear in the next issue of THE WINESKIN.

Friday Night Flick

The Bridge on the River Kwai, one of the most widely acclaimed films ever produced, will be shown on February 10, at 7:30 p.m., in the Campus Center Auditorium. Based on Pierre Boulle's novel, the film deals with the building of a jungle railway bridge by British inmates of a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp in Chungkai.

Directed by David Lean and produced by Sam Spiegel, the noted team who made Lawrence of Arabia and Dr. Zhivago, the film won 27 international awards and 7 Academy Awards. Alec Guiness, William Holden, and Jack Hawkins head the cast.

Ernest Gordon, who wrote of his own experiences in the same "death-camp," will speak at 1:30 p.m., Friday, February 10 in Stevenson Lounge. In his book, Through the Valley of the Kwai, the present Dean of the Chapel at Princeton University, has given a memorable account of the almost incomprehensible conditions which he and his fellow prisoners endured.

While the movie's underlying message is that war is a madness which afflicts conquered and conquerors alike, Dean Gordon's autobiographical account shares with greater pathos the search for faith and love in the midst of disease, starvation, and torture. Both serve as provocative studies of men in conflict and threatened by the inevitable, all-inclusive, destructiveness of war.

Sports Corner

Basketball season is rapidly drawing to a close. The championship will be decided in two make-up games this week. The Seniors, Alex, Brown, and Hodge are still in contention. Varsity basketball games will continue through March 1, at which time the Seminary team will meet the Princeton University Junior Varsity.

Volleyball season begins on Wednesday, February 8. The volleyball league will be composed of the same teams that formed the basketball circuit. Each volleyball team will have six men. Play will be governed by the United States Olympic Rule Book.

There will also be co-educational volleyball, and all Seminary wives and denizens of Tennent Hall are invited to participate. Co-ed volleyball will be played on Monday evenings from 7:00 to 8:00. Please note that this represents a change in the previously announced schedule.

Athletic Director Mel Knight also wishes to remind the Seminary community that the basketball court is closed on Sundays.

Theatre Workshop Re-opens

George Bernard Shaw's Don Juan In Hell will be the first production of the Theatre Workshop this semester. Already in rehearsal and scheduled for March 1, 2, and 4, the play will be the featured dramatic presentation for the Conference on Church Vocations. The cast includes Mr. Donald Chatfield, Joan Petersen, J. Randall Nichols, and John Patton.

Plans for the remainder of the year include R. H. Ward's The Prodigal Son, Martin B. Duberman's In White America, and E. Lawrence Gibson's The Lament of Job, already presented in Miller Chapel last December. A lengthened version of the play will feature the same cast and be staged in-the-round at the Campus Center. Later the dramaturgy will be presented at New York's Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Beginning on Wednesday, February 15, at 3:30 p.m., there will be five two-hour workshops in play direction. Attention will be given to techniques as they apply explicitly to the production of dramatic presentations within the church. The workshop will deal with the problems of play selection, script preparation, blocking for movement, rehearsing and production management.

The sessions will include work on scenes from three plays: Osborn's Look Back in Anger, Ionesco's The Bald Soprano and Swann's The Circle Beyond Fear. The scenes will provide opportunity for acting and/or directing experience and will be used to focus attention on techniques of staging for the chancel as well as for the proscenium and the arena stage.

The workshop will meet in the Campus Center Auditorium from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on five consecutive Mondays. All interested persons are asked to register at the Reception Desk of the Speech Studios.

The Confession of 1967 A Dialogue

"The Confession of 1967 as It Now Stands" will be the topic of a dialogue held at 8:00 p.m., Monday, February 13 in the Main Lounge of the Campus Center. Participants will be Professors Edward Dowey and George Hendry of the faculty. Sponsored by the Theological Society, the meeting is open to the student body as well as interested visitors.

The focal point of the discussion will be Mr. Hendry's article "The Bible in the Confession of 1967," which appeared in the most recent Princeton Seminary Bulletin. Daniel Batson, chairman of the Theological Society's steering committee, interprets Mr. Hendry's article as suggesting that the Confession was significantly changed at the last General Assembly. Batson feels the dialogue will be one of the few Seminary events in recent years centered around clearly divergent faculty opinion. The Theological Society plans to sponsor more dialogues. "It is in such face-to-face encounter that theological inquiry becomes most vital," notes Batson.

THEODORE GOODWIN BELOTE

February 27, 1912 · February 12, 1967

Our friend Ted has left us, and what can we say? At moments like this, "what most needs be said sticks in the throat." Besides, when you lose someone who has always helped, respected, and loved you, there is no reclaiming him with words. Even so, we try to express our own love and loss, because he meant so much to us that silence is somehow even more difficult than speech.

Some people give of themselves. Ted gave himself. He was a brilliant specialist in a sophisticated science, and he gave his brilliance to the Church. He was a cordial man, and he gave his cheerful heart to his friends. He was a kind man, and he gave his sympathetic help to everyone whose need he could serve. All aspects of our relationship with him were rewarding and salutary. His professional skills gave Princeton Seminary and the churches with which he was associated unique advantages in the technical areas of communication. His personal humanity gave happiness, comfort, and example to all who knew him.

Ted's going has left an empty place which will remain so because no one else can ever fill it. But let us give thanks to God for the life of this sterling man, and let us take inspiration from our memory of him. He was surely one of those worthy of the name of Man, and worth calling "brothers of the Son of Man."

Rest In Peace.

Theatre Workshop Presents Shaw Play

The Theatre Workshop will present Don Juan in Hell, a philosophical comedy by Bernard Shaw, on March 1, 2, and 4 in the Campus Center Auditorium. Donald Chatfield will play the notorious Don Juan, with J. Randall Nichols as the Devil, Joan Petersen as Dona Ana, and John Patton as the Commander Don Gonzalo.

Once refused by a publisher because he found the play "nothing but an intention to wound, irritate and upset," Don Juan in Hell (and the larger work of which it is a part, Man and Superman) is an outstanding example of Shaw's ability to confront the public with its hypocrisy and complacency. The play addresses itself mainly to these philosophical questions: "What is the purpose of life?," and "What is the nature of happiness?" As in most of Shaw's writings, Don Juan shares the attributes of the Socratic dialogue with that of a Molièresque comedy. For all its biting humor, it is one of the century's most notable moral documents.

The Wednesday and Thursday night performances, scheduled for 8:30, are open to the public without charge. Those interested in Saturday's performance at 7:30 p.m. are advised to make reservations with Lawrence Gibson or the Speech Studios, since most seats will be taken by participants in the Conference on Church Vocations.

B'nai B'rith Representatives Here Soon

Does a Christian's theological position affect his attitude toward Jews? On Wednesday, March 8, Rabbi Arthur Gilbert and Mr. Sol Littman of B'nai B'rith will be on campus to discuss related issues. These representatives of the Jewish community are anxious to meet and talk with seminary students in the hope of fostering dialogue in an area often neglected or ignored. Students are urged to save the early afternoon for this discussion. The Church and Society Committee plans a luncheon for faculty and students followed by an open presentation and discussion. Details will follow in the next issue of The Wineskin.

Immediate information and possible study resources may be obtained from Carol Moseley, Tennent Hall.

Evening Organ Recital

Gale Enger will present a special evening organ recital in Miller Chapel on Tuesday, February 28, at 7:45. A member of the organ faculty of the Westminster Choir College, Mr. Enger is also the Organist-Choirmaster of the First Presbyterian Church, Reading, Pennsylvania. In addition, he is a frequent recitalist in many parts of the nation, having completed a west coast tour this past season, and recitals in New York's St. Thomas' Church and The Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

He has studied at Lewis and Clark College, Sherwood School of Music, and the Westminster Choir College; and has earned the A.A.G.O. degree from the American Guild of Organists.

Well known to Princeton students from his series of Thursday afternoon recitals, this is Mr. Enger's first evening recital at the Seminary.

The varied program will include works by Bach, "Sheep May Safely Graze," "We Thank Thee, God" and "Kyrie, God the Holy Ghost"; Four Symphonic Meditations on Ascension Day by Olivier Messiaen; "Fantasy and Fugue on B.A.C.H." by Franz Liszt; and works by R. Elmore, H. Berlinski, L. Vierne, and R. Leach.

The service is with young boys, third through sixth grades. Help is sought for several hours on Monday afternoons. There are possibilities for a car pool. Reeb Memorial Lecture, Roy Wilkins, President, The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Campus Center Auditorium, 7:30 p.m., Friday; a folk liturgy, Miller Chapel, 9:00 p.m., Friday; and an address, "The Task and Direction of Theological Education," John Coventry Smith, General Secretary, United Presbyterian Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations, Campus Center Auditorium, 9:00 a.m., Saturday. ## COEMAR Chief Speaks

The Rev. John Coventry Smith will address the Conference on Church Vocations Saturday morning at 9:00 in the Campus Center Auditorium. He brings to Princeton wide experience from his nearly twenty years of service on the executive staff of the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations and its predecessor, the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church. The last eight years he has served as General Secretary of the Commission. He will speak on "The Task and Direction of Theological Education" at an open meeting of the Conference.

Educated at Muskingum College, Pittsburgh-Xenia Theological Seminary, and Hartford Seminary, Dr. Smith was a missionary in Japan prior to World War II. Following a pastorate in Pittsburgh, he continued his active interest in the missionary work of the Church through travel to numerous parts of the world, attendance at many of the great ecumenical conferences of recent years, and membership on the Central Committee of the World Council of Churches. His present position gives him primary responsibility for the overseas mission and interchurch relations of the United Presbyterian Church and the national Churches to which it is related.

A Newer New Now

The Theological Book Agency announces the second special sale of the semester: "Did you know that what was new is not now new, for there is a newer new now?" In other words, New Theology No. 4, successor to 3 similar volumes, has been released by Collier-Macmillan and will be on sale during the week of March 6-10. The price is $1.05.

Edited by Martin E. Marty and Dean G. Peerman, New Theology No. 4 gleans the best of articles from religious publications during the past year, seeking to "move 'beyond the secular' to deal, in chastened ways, with religion."

Funds Established For Theodore G. Belote

Two funds have been established in honor of Theodore Goodwin Belote, late Director of Radio and Television at Princeton Seminary. Under the aegis of the Student Council, the student body is raising funds for four reading lecterns, which Mr. Belote himself selected for the Seminary. Each will bear a memorial plaque. These lecterns will be for general campus use, and will serve to commemorate Mr. Belote's broad involvement in Seminary life.

Students who wish to contribute to this project should make checks payable to "Princeton Seminary Student Association," and send them to Randall Ruppart, Student Council Treasurer, 215 Hodge Hall.

Faculty and friends of Mr. Belote and the Seminary may contribute to the Theodore Goodwin Belote Memorial Scholarship Fund. Checks should be made to "Princeton Theological Seminary and marked for the Fund. Mr. William Lawder, Treasurer of the Seminary, will receive these memorial gifts.

Alexander Hall Wins Basketball Title

The intramural basketball season is now over, with Alexander Hall winning the top spot in the standings. The champs from Alexander Hall will meet the Varsity team on Thursday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Seminary gymnasium.

Volleyball is now in the forefront of campus athletic activities. Alexander and the Senior off-campus teams are currently battling it out for the lead, while the Junior-Middler off-campus team has thus far failed to field a team. The graduate students and faculty have combined to field a formidable squad, led by Richard Snyder and Mr. Lawder.

Roy Wilkins Delivers Reeb Lecture

Roy Wilkins, Executive Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will deliver the second annual James J. Reeb Memorial Lecture Friday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. The Reeb lecture series was established last year. It commemorates an alumnus of the Seminary who died from injuries received in Selma, Alabama in 1965. The series was inaugurated with a lecture by Eugene Carson Blake, General Secretary of the World Council of Churches.

Wilkins, who is highly regarded by politicians of both parties, has been called to the White House by three Presidents for consultation on civil rights problems and legislation. His prominence as a leader in the civil rights movement has grown out of his articulate presentation of the Negro's case to the American public.

As Executive Director of the NAACP, Wilkins directs the 515,000 member organization with local chapters in all 50 states. These chapters have had increasing influence in creating equal opportunities for Negroes. The Association's legal branch has been primarily responsible for almost every major legal victory in the cause of civil rights.

Born in St. Louis, Missouri, Wilkins grew up in Minnesota and graduated from the University of Minnesota. His first job was on the staff of the Kansas City Call. He became editor of The Crisis, the official organ of the NAACP in 1931, and 24 years later succeeded Walter White as Executive Director of the bi-racial organization, a post he has held ever since.

The lecture is open to the public.

Unusual Lay Internship Opportunity

The office of Field Education announces an unusual internship opportunity designed primarily for students who have completed their Junior Year. It is called the "Lay Internship in a Metropolitan Area." Its purpose is "to give theological students an opportunity to understand better the dynamics and problems of the city and the church's ministry there through actual living and working experience in the city and lay participation in the life of a particular church."

The interns will work in secular occupations in Philadelphia; live in inner city rooms or apartments; participate in neighborhood churches as laymen; share in Philadelphia Presbytery Urban Seminars on alternate Saturdays; attend a weekly seminar conducted by a Princeton Seminary Field Education staff member; and meet monthly on an individual basis with a Field Education staff member.

The registration fee of $250 is payable to "Princeton Theological Seminary." For further information see Mr. Jerome Leksa, Assistant to the Dean of Field Education.

Easter Banquet

The All-campus Easter Banquet will be held on Tuesday, March 14, at 6:00 p.m. in the Campus Center Refectory. Mr. Anthony Aspras, Dining Hall Manager, has announced the following menu: fresh fruit cup, London Broil with mushrooms and gravy, baked potato with sour cream, "do-it-yourself" sundaes, and even some Easter eggs!

Married students and faculty families are especially encouraged to attend. The cost is $2.00 per person for non-boarders.

Fall Field Education

Pastor-supervisors are now interviewing students for Fall field education positions. The Office of Field Education asks that students utilize the following procedure in arranging for interviews:

"1. Consult the bulletin board outside the Field Education Office, where brief descriptions of job openings are being posted.

"2. When you see a job that interests you, note the number and obtain the job description from Mrs. Simpson in the Field Education Office. (Job descriptions may not be removed from the Office.)

"3. If you are interested in interviewing for a particular job, confirm arrangements as to time and place with Mrs. Simpson."

Mr. Jerome Leksa, Assistant to the Dean of Field Education, notes that "although additional placements will be made in the Fall, you would be wise to interview at this time."

James M. Robinson Delivers Warfield Lectures

Dr. James McConkey Robinson will deliver the Annie Kinkead Warfield Lectures on March 27-30. Dr. Robinson, Professor of Religion at the Claremont Graduate School and University Center, California, has entitled his series "The New Testament as Hermeneutic."

The six lectures will be delivered in Miller Chapel according to the following schedule:

|---|---|
| Monday, March 27 | 7:45 p.m. |
| Tuesday, March 28 | 7:45 p.m. |
| Wednesday, March 29 | 1:45 p.m. |
| | 7:45 p.m. |
| Thursday, March 30 | 1:45 p.m. |
| | 7:45 p.m. |

Please note that on Thursday afternoon a special class schedule will be in effect. See "The Week Ahead" section of this issue.

Robinson received the B.A. degree from Davidson College in 1945 (summa cum laude), and earned his B.D. degree at Columbia Theological Seminary (magna cum laude). He holds two earned doctorates, having received the Th.D. degree from the University of Basel in 1952 and Princeton Theological Seminary in 1955.

Professor Robinson has taught at Davidson College, the Candler School of Theology at Emory University, and at Columbia Seminary before going to Claremont in 1958 as an associate professor in the School of Theology. In 1961 he was named Professor of Theology and New Testament. In 1964 he was appointed Professor of Religion in the Claremont Graduate School where he had been an affiliate member of the faculty from 1959 to 1964. He also holds the same title in the School of Theology at Claremont.

Earlier this year, Dr. Robinson's most recent volume, Kerygma und historischer Jesus, was published. He is editing The Beginnings of Dialectic Theology, scheduled to be published this year. He is co-editor with John B. Cobb, Jr. of New Frontiers in Theology, the third volume of which will appear this Spring. Dr. Robinson also serves on the editorial boards of Theologische Forschung and Journal for Theology and the Church.

With the second semester in the home stretch, the following article is printed out of compassion for students and (yes!) faculty:

Hints for Writing Term Papers

by Hugh T. Kerr

As a long-time and long-suffering term-paper-reader-marker, I offer the following hints for students before the semi-annual mayhem against literate English composition begins:

(1) Read and master Bruce M. Metzger's A Guide to the Preparation of a Thesis (Princeton Pamphlets #4, Theological Book Agency) or its equivalent. Adopt a consistent method of punctuation, footnoting, and bibliography. There are recognized ways of preparing a manuscript though no one correct way. Pick a simple, acceptable, consistent format.

(2) Use a heavy weight of good white paper (at least 16 lb.; 20 lb. is better). Never, never use onion skin or transparent sheets. Shop around for good quality paper; the feel and look of the page can give the reader-marker a favorable or unfavorable impression at the outset. (Always make a carbon copy for yourself, but never submit the carbon.)

(3) Always use a fresh typewriter ribbon, or at least one that makes a clear impression that is easily read. Difficulty in deciphering the typing will hardly enlist the reader-marker's enthusiasm for the paper's contents.

(4) Always proofread your paper before it is submitted and correct or retype mistakes. Obvious typographical errors suggest you were in a hurry or so uninterested in the assignment that you couldn't bear to reread what you wrote.

(5) List footnotes and bibliography correctly and fully. This may seem a literary conceit, but it's part of the trade, so learn how to do it properly.

(6) Number the pages and secure them with a staple or paper clip. If a binder is used, it should be flexible so that the paper can be opened easily. If the paper is to be returned by mail, enclose an addressed, stamped (first class) manila envelope.

(7) If you think the following (taken from actual papers) are spelled correctly, better look them up: (sic) emperical, verticle, intrical, meaningfull, dinosour, delima, seperate, ascention, idenity, homolectics, succintly, revalatory, epistomology, diety, existance, exegisis, catagory, relevence, tenents, Apostle's Creed, challange, dicotomy, committment, hypocracy, indispensible, concensus. (A Pocket Book Webster-Merriam Dictionary costs 35¢; keep one by your typewriter.)

(8) In the preparation of a paper, try to: (a) communicate your own reflections to your reader-marker without assuming he knows all about the inner recesses of your mind; (b) answer the specific assignment and not some other related question that happens to appeal to you instead; (c) relate the paper to the course work, lectures, and class discussions; (d) get inside the problem and grapple with the issues; (e) be as radically critical as you like, but be constructive too; remember iconoclasts nowadays are a dime a dozen; (f) put your best effort into the literary composition and begin to develop your own style of writing.

Petition and Appeal

At a meeting on Wednesday, March 15, the Student Council discussed the dearth of knowledge among Princeton Seminary students concerning the process of petitioning and the right of appeal. One major reason for this problem is that many students have not taken the time to read the Academic Regulations. This document has been significantly revised for the 1966-1967 academic year. Copies may be obtained either from the Office of the Registrar or the Office of Student Studies. The Council urges you to read it.

Robinson Prize Examination Held Soon

By mastering the Shorter Catechism, students may receive awards on the Samuel Robinson Foundation. The late Mr. Robinson, former President and Chairman of the Board of Acme Super Markets, was a distinguished Philadelphia layman. Students who wish to participate in the competition must take an examination on the Shorter Catechism. It will be administered by Professor Macleod in the Homiletics Seminar Room (basement of Miller Chapel) on Monday, April 3, at 7:30 p.m. The cash prizes are $150 each.

T.B.A. Features O.T. Form Criticism

Those who react to New Testament form criticism with delight or despair, are being offered a change of pace by the Theological Book Agency this week: Old Testament form criticism. From March 27 to 31 the T.B.A. will feature Albrecht Alt's Essays on Old Testament History and Religion and Claus Westermann's Basic Forms of Prophetic Speech. The sale prices are $4.80 and $3.50.

Also of interest to T.B.A. customers, Joseph Fletcher's new release, Moral Responsibility, has just been received from Westminster.

Standard Presbytery Ordination Exams

The second series of Standard Presbytery Ordination Examinations will be administered on April 13-15.

Application forms for those who have not taken any of the examinations and wish to do so are available in the Office of Field Education, 101 Hodge Hall. Those who failed one or more sections of the previous examination series have been mailed application forms.

The examinations will be given in Room 5 Stuart Hall, Thursday, April 13, at 2:00 p.m.; and Friday, April 14, at 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. The Saturday section may be picked up in Room 201, Speer Library, at 9:00 a.m.

Inquiries should be directed to Mr. John Bartholomew in the Office of Field Education.

Spring Potpourri

The Student Council is sponsoring a unique series of programs to focus attention on some of the arts. Spring Potpourri, the name given to the series, will begin on Sunday, April 2 and run through Friday, April 14.

The initial program will feature the Princeton Chamber Orchestra under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi. Other musical events include a concert by the Footnotes, a Princeton University undergraduate vocal group; organ recitals by Eugenia Toole and Hedley Yost; and a performance by the combined Touring and Recording Choirs of Princeton Seminary.

The featured film is Lili, starring Leslie Caron. Shorter motion pictures scheduled for the two week series are: Greece: The Inner World, Japan: The Frozen Moment, From Renoir to Picasso, War Games, Toys on a Field of Blue, and a filming of Duke Ellington's Concert of Sacred Music, as presented at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church in New York City.

Other events include a slide presentation and discussion led by Professor Hugh T. Kerr and J. Randall Nichols; an informal reading of original poems written by seminarians; and a Beaux Arts Dinner and dance.

The dramaturgy: The Lament of Job, written by E. Lawrence Gibson, will be presented in a revised and lengthened form in the context of a service of worship led by Professor W. J. Beeners. Further details and a time schedule will be included in the next issue of THE WINESKIN.

PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY · FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1967 · VOL. 6 · No. 10

ROBERT MARKWICK SKINNER

March 14, 1903 · March 22, 1967

Robert Markwick Skinner was a churchman. Because of his deep concern for the Church, its mission, and its ministry, he was in the midst of his duties as Vice President of Princeton Theological Seminary when he was stricken by death on March 22.

Bob Skinner returned to the Seminary campus in 1963 after nearly thirty years in the pastorate. He resigned a vital ministry in a major church of the United Presbyterian communion because of his insight into the needs of theological education and the training of the clergy, and because he loved this school. Dr. Skinner came to Princeton in order to continue his ministry, not to leave it.

He was particularly concerned for the needs of Seminary students. Through his efforts the Scholarship Fund was substantially increased in recent years. Bob was hampered by health problems during the past months, but immediately upon his return to the campus in early March he turned his attention once again to securing additional funds to help students.

Dr. Skinner returned to his duties at full tempo, because he had always worked that way. After graduating from college he entered the business world, and began a promising career in industry at a time when the financial crisis of 1929 had drastically limited opportunity in such a field.

In 1931 he returned to school, and was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1934. He served pastorates in Washington, D.C., Pottsville, Pa., Westfield, N.J., and Amarillo, Texas, before coming home to Princeton. Dr. Skinner's sense of churchmanship led him to be a hard-working presbyter, heading major presbytery and synod committees throughout his ministry. He was chairman of The United Presbyterian Church's National Commission on Evangelism. He was a member of the Board of National Missions, and of the Commission on Capital Needs that planned the $50 Million Fund Campaign.

Bob Skinner himself never made much of these things, nor of the fact that his ministry included the pastorates of two of the greatest churches of the denomination. These are the marks of the Church's recognition of a churchman of superior stature, the accolades we heard at his funeral service March 25 in Miller Chapel. When he was asked to describe his work, his own response was "Minister of the Gospel."

Speer-Zwemer Centennial Convocation

The entire Seminary community is encouraged to attend the Centennial Convocation honoring the one hundredth anniversary of the births of Robert E. Speer and Samuel Zwemer, distinguished alumni of Princeton Theological Seminary and New Brunswick Theological Seminary respectively. The event will be celebrated on Wednesday, April 5.

Faculty, students, and alumni of New Brunswick Theological Seminary have been invited to the Princeton campus.

The program will begin with a dinner at 6:00 p.m. in the Campus Center Refectory. William M. Miller, Missionary to Iran (retired) will give the invocation. President James I. McCord and Student Council President James D. Brown will welcome the guests; and there will be responses by New Brunswick Theological Seminary President, Wallace Jameson, and by the President of the New Brunswick Seminary Student Association.

The Centennial Addresses will be delivered in Miller Chapel at 7:00 p.m. The speakers are Princeton Seminary President-Emeritus John A. Mackay, and New Brunswick Theological Seminary Professor John Beardslee. They will speak on the life and work of Speer and Zwemer.

Robert E. Speer, a member of the Princeton Seminary Class of 1893, was called to head the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. at the age of only twenty-four. He held that post until his retirement in 1937 at the age of seventy. One of the foremost missionary statesmen of his era, Speer was elected Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. in 1927. Princeton Seminary's library, erected in 1957, is named in his honor.

Samuel Zwemer was graduated from New Brunswick Theological Seminary in 1890, and in that same year sailed for Arabia to start a pioneer mission station. In 1912 he was called to Cairo, Egypt. From this base he edited the quarterly, Moslem World, and directed extensive evangelistic work among Islamic peoples. Zwemer has been often called the "apostle to Islam."

It is noteworthy at this convocation of the two seminaries that Samuel Zwemer, educated at New Brunswick, was called to the faculty of Princeton Seminary in 1929. He occupied the Professorship of Missions until retiring in 1936.

David H. Burr To Preach

The Chapel preacher on Wednesday morning, April 5, will be the Rev. David H. Burr, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin in 1947, Mr. Burr had already served four years in the U.S. Navy. He was graduated from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1950. Always interested in student work, he served as Director of the Wesley Foundation at Princeton University and as youth advisor at the local Methodist Church.

In 1950 he became minister to students at the University of Virginia and a year later was called to become minister of the Presbyterian Church in Charlottesville. He served there until 1958 when he was called to the Royster Memorial Church, Norfolk, Virginia. In 1963 he came to Winston-Salem, North Carolina, where he serves as minister of one of the leading Presbyterian churches in the southern denomination.

Mr. Burr has been resource leader and speaker at many colleges and schools for student conferences and religious emphasis programs.

Spring Potpourri

The following is the first week's schedule of Spring Potpourri, a Student Council sponsored series which focuses attention on some of the arts.

SUNDAY

The Princeton Chamber Orchestra will initiate these programs which are all open to the public without charge. The concert will be given Sunday, April 2 at 2:00 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium.

MONDAY

A recording of Leonard Bernstein's Symphony No. 3 will be played in Stevenson Lounge at 7:00 p.m. Entitled the Kaddish Symphony, the 1963 work is as extraordinary theologically as it is musically.

Exploiting the dualistic overtone of the Kaddish, a Hebrew prayer chanted for the dead, Bernstein wrote a text and score to express its connotation as a kind of a requiem and as a triumphant celebration of creation and life. His text, sung and spoken, is a provocative "personal confessional" that embraces both an agonized outburst against God's breach of faith with man and a jubilant paean of God. Howard Happ will introduce the work.

Also on Monday, the College of Wooster Chorus will sing in Miller Chapel at 1:30 p.m.

TUESDAY

The culinary delights of Slater's April Beaux Arts dinner at 6:00 p.m. will be followed by a thirty-minute concert by the Footnotes. Noted for their vocal arrangements of folk and popular songs, the Footnotes will begin their program at about 6:40 p.m. in the Campus Center Refectory. Tickets are available at the usual cost of two dollars for non-boarders. The French dinner will be served family style.

WEDNESDAY

Two short films will be shown at 1:45 p.m. in Studio Seven of Stuart Hall. Wargames, a Japanese film, is a haunting study of childhood savagery and might well be a parable of man's inability to inhabit the earth without destroying life.

Toys on a Field of Blue, too, is an anti-war film. It relates a bitter-sweet story of an old man watching children playing war games. Through their make-believe war and toy weapons the old man is forced to remember the painful experiences he has come to know through wars.

THURSDAY

Eugenia Toole will give a half-hour organ recital in Miller Chapel at 1:35 p.m.

A revised and lengthened version of E. Lawrence Gibson's The Lament of Job will be presented in Miller Chapel at 8:00 p.m. Originally presented by the Theatre Workshop in December, the dramaturgy will feature the same cast: Chris Petrak, John Ross, Charles Gilmore, William Robinson, James Roghair and Karen Gravengaard.

Written expressly for use in the chancel, the dramaturgy will be presented in the context of worship, with Professor W. J. Beeners as leader in worship.

FRIDAY

Greece: The Inner World, a 60-minute film presented through the courtesy of Standard Oil Co., will be shown in the Campus Center Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Climactic segments of three Greek tragedies offer insight into the Greek awareness of moral law. Katina Paxinou and Alexis Minotis star in scenes from Hecuba, Oedipus Rex and Prometheus Bound. Robert Graves narrates.

Spring Potpourri

The second week of Spring Potpourri will feature the following special events. The series is sponsored by the Student Council.

MONDAY

Duke Ellington's Concert of Sacred Music, given originally at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church of New York City, will be presented on film in the Campus Center Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. The film of the December, 1965 presentation was made by CBS-TV. Entitled In the Beginning God, the composition is one of the most outstanding current musical expressions of faith and joy.

TUESDAY

The Combined Recording and Touring Choirs of Princeton Seminary will present a concert in Miller Chapel at 8:30 p.m. Under the direction of Professor David Hugh Jones, the program will include classical selections, a group of Negro spirituals, in addition to contemporary twentieth century compositions for male choruses. The Touring Choir sings in three churches almost every Sunday, but its extensive schedule seldom includes a concert for the Seminary itself. The Recording Choir is composed of former members of the Touring Choir. This program promises to be a highlight of the Spring Potpourri.

WEDNESDAY

Japan: The Frozen Moment, a film presented through the courtesy of Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, will be shown at 1:45 p.m. in Studio Seven in Stuart Hall. The hour-long film, focusing on Japanese theatre, dance, music, and poetry, reveals the strict and ancient aesthetic disciplines of that country. Included in the film are a spectacular 7th century dance, scenes from a Noh play, and a dance-drama by members of the Kabuki theatre.

"The Agony of Christ" will be the topic of an experimental slide presentation by J. Randall Nichols at 8:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. Professor Hugh T. Kerr will participate in the discussion of the use of the nonverbal in communicating theology and expressing faith. One hundred slides of paintings, drawings, and sculpture have been arranged sequentially to provide a focus on the events of Good Friday through Easter Day. Selected, photographed, and edited by Mr. Nichols, the slides are shown without narration, accompanied only by a unique musical collage.

THURSDAY

Hedley Yost will be guest organist for the half-hour recital at 1:35 p.m. A former member of the faculty of the Westminster Choir College, Mr. Yost will play works by J. S. Bach, Johannes Brahms, Jean Langlais, and Flor Peeters.

The feature-length film Lili and a short film From Renoir to Picasso will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. Selected as one of the ten best films of 1954 by the National Board of Review, Lili stars Leslie Caron as a French orphan girl who joins a carnival puppet show. Also appearing in this Academy Award winning film are Mel Ferrer, Jean Pierre Aumont, and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

From Renoir to Picasso is one of the most notable films on art ever made, and received First Prize at the 1950 Venice Film Festival. The film is a study and comparison of the characteristics of Renoir, Seurat, and Picasso. Though its art criticism is limited to these three French artists, it provides a stimulating introduction to the entire subject of modern art.

FRIDAY

Spring Potpourri will conclude with a dance in the Campus Center Refectory from 8:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The Apocalypse, a five-piece combo, will feature popular music arranged for guitar. Formed this Fall at the Seminary, the group will perform this Summer at resorts in the Poconos.

Metropolitan Internship

An unusual internship opportunity is being offered in the Philadelphia metropolitan area from September 1967 through June 1968. Open to all students of Princeton Seminary, interns will work in secular occupations, and will participate in Philadelphia neighborhood churches as laymen. In addition they will share in Philadelphia Presbyterv Urban Seminars and meet regularly with Princeton Seminary Field Education staff members.

The Office of Field Education feels that this program offers an exciting opportunity for theological students to gain increased awareness of the dynamics and problems of urban ministry. Its emphasis on grass roots participation in local businesses and churches is not only unique, but affords a most realistic picture of the context of urban ministry.

For further details and information about application forms and the registration fee, see Mr. Jerome Leksa in the Field Education Office. Applications are due April 15.

Center of Continuing Education Schedule

Beginning with this issue of THE WINESKIN, notice of the seminars at the Center of Continuing Education will be listed for your information. The Center, located at 12 Library Place across from Speer Library, is directed by the Rev. Jack Cooper. In its more than four years of operation, approximately 4,000 ministers and laymen have taken part in the Center's varied programs.

Most of the seminars run from Monday through Thursday, but some conferences are on weekends. Guests at the Center take their meals in the Campus Center, and thus have an opportunity to meet students. Students may also obtain permission to sit in on the seminars. Those interested in this opportunity are asked to contact Mr. Cooper, or the secretary, Mrs. Jones, at the Center.

This week's seminar (April 10-13) is in Pastoral Care and Counseling. The special emphasis is "Ministry to the Sick." The leaders will be Professor Seward Hiltner, and Chaplain Bernard Pennington from Philadelphia Presbyterian Hospital.

Dialogue With Philip Rieff

The Theological Society and Koinonia are jointly sponsoring a "Dialogue with Philip Rieff" on Thursday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. Dr. Rieff is the University Professor of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania. The discussion will center on his recent volume, The Triumph of the Therapeutic: Uses of Faith After Freud. Mr. James Lapsley will be the primary respondent, assessing the implications of this work which presents a non-commitment theory of culture and challenges the relevance of religious values for modern man.

Dr. Rieff is noted for his wit and ability to use his analytic skill in debate and dialogue. His 1959 volume, Freud: The Mind of the Moralist, has been widely acclaimed.

Award Winning Becket Shown Friday

The film Becket, starring Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole, will be shown in the Campus Center Auditorium on Friday, April 21, at 7:30 p.m. Based on the play by Jean Anouilh, the film portrays the story of King Henry II of England and his beloved friend-turned-enemy, Thomas Becket. Members of the Crescent Avenue Church will be present, and students are also encouraged to attend the brief act of dedication. Refreshments will be served.

Forthcoming Inter-Seminary Events

Several opportunities are forthcoming for Princeton students to meet other seminarians. The Inter-Seminary Committee has planned an exchange with the Yale Divinity School, in New Haven, during April 14-15. Continuing a tradition of previous years, students from both seminaries will present papers and critiques. The general theme is "The Reformed Tradition and the Ecumenical Movement." Papers will be presented on baptism, the role of the laity, and the relationship between church and state.

General Theological Seminary of the Protestant Episcopal Church has invited interested Princeton students to spend several days at their New York campus on Chelsea Square. This is planned as an opportunity to become acquainted with some Episcopalian seminarians and their life at General. Suggested dates for the visit are April 20-23. Those interested should contact Wayne Holcomb, 409 Brown Hall, at their earliest convenience.

St. Joseph's, a Roman Catholic Seminary located in Yonkers, New York, will conduct a planning session on April 23 to explore a possible Summer project in Harlem. For further information contact Wayne Holcomb.

Eugene Carson Blake Speaks Monday

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake will address the Seminary community on Monday, April 24, at 4:00 p.m. in the Main Lounge of the Campus Center. Dr. Blake's topic is "Is the Ecumenical Movement Still a Movement?" Dr. Blake has indicated, however, that he wants the meeting to be primarily an opportunity for questions and discussion.

As General-Secretary of the World Council of Churches since 1966, Dr. Blake has an exceedingly keen interest not only in the ecumenical movement, but in the critical problems that face the church around the world. To his position in Geneva with the World Council he brought 15 years of experience as Stated Clerk of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, and 19 years of insights gained in the parish.

Dr. Blake was born in St. Louis, Missouri. He graduated with honors in philosophy from Princeton University, where he was also a varsity football player. Following graduate study at New College, Edinburgh, he returned to Princeton and in 1932 received the Th.B. degree from the Theological Seminary. After a three-year assistantship in a New York church, Dr. Blake was called to the First Presbyterian Church of Albany, New York. In 1940, he became Pastor of the Pasadena, California, Presbyterian Church, where he remained until elected Stated Clerk in 1951.

Always a leader in ecumenical efforts, Dr. Blake is well known for his 1960 sermon in San Francisco which eventually led to the Consultation on Church Union. Dr. Blake is a former President of the National Council of Churches and has served as a delegate to the General Council of the World Presbyterian Alliance.

His leadership in the struggle for human rights has been recognized by awards from the Catholic Interracial Council of Chicago and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. Dr. Blake served as Chairman of the National Council of Churches' Commission on Religion and Race.

Dr. Blake is at Princeton to attend the Spring meeting of the Board of Trustees. He will speak at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church.

Pseukay Selected As Stewardship Project

Last Fall the Student Council decided that this year the members of the Seminary community would be asked to support one major stewardship project. Previously, the stewardship drive aided numerous and often unrelated causes.

At its April 14 meeting the Council, after carefully considering several proposals, selected Pseukay as this year's stewardship project. Pseukay (from the Greek for "soul") is a community organization of Negro young people, inspired by Princeton Seminary Junior Herbert McGuin, Jr. Beginning with a nucleus of five boys and four girls interested in vocal music, Pseukay has grown to the stage where it now involves some 90 young people in a varied and exciting program. Mr. McGuin considers Pseukay a means to help the young people expand their horizons and develop their creative talents. The program, which places its emphasis on the visual and performing arts, includes two male and one female singing group, a creative dance program, drawing classes, leadership training, a tutorial project, a college placement service, a typewriting class, and a speech pathology section led by Mr. William Brower of the Seminary Speech Department.

The group also edits its own newsletter, Pseukay News. In a recent edition, Lyn Hoaglund, a Pseukay member, wrote of the organization: "This is a great opportunity for many of us, and because we are Negroes living in a predominantly white community, we need to strive to make this organization what we want and to work toward a better goal in life."

Weekly meetings are held at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. Pseukay presently has a staff of nine, most of whom are students at the Seminary. The organization planned a festival, "Youth Arts Unlimited," in cooperation with Youth Associates, another Princeton youth group. The arts festival was held on April 15, behind the Princeton Playhouse. On June 2, Pseukay will sponsor a speaking engagement by Claude Brown, author of Manchild in the Promised Land.

Each year the practicality of asking students with limited resources to give to a stewardship project is questioned. Recognizing this fact, the Student Council recommends that in the coming weeks students consider the possibility of doing extra work—such as baby-sitting, yard work, etc.—and contributing the money to Pseukay. The group is worthy of all the support the student body can give it.

NSSC Conference

The Northeast Seminarians Study Conference is a Catholic inter-seminary organization that covers the Eastern seaboard from Boston to Washington. Protestant seminarians have been invited to participate in the annual Summer conference of NSSC, to be held on August 25-27 at Seton Hall University in South Orange, New Jersey.

The general theme of the weekend is "Christian Witness in the Megalopolis." The outstanding list of speakers from both Catholic and Protestant traditions will include Harvey Cox, William Stringfellow, and Anthony Padovano. A variety of workshops and discussions with these and other leaders in the renewal of urban life, is also featured.

Contact Wayne Holcomb for further information. Cost of the three-day conference is $12.50.

T.B.A. Acts on Acts

Two new commentaries of major importance on the Acts of the Apostles are featured in the Theological Book Agency's special sale, April 24-28: The Acts of the Apostles by Johannes Munck ($4.20), published in Doubleday's Anchor Bible series; and The Acts ($3.50) by R. P. C. Hanson, published by Oxford University Press in the New Clarendon Bible series.

Long noted for his Pauline scholarship, the late Professor Munck was a Visiting Professor in New Testament at Princeton Seminary in 1964. Hanson's The Acts is a valuable commentary for students and teachers, which eliminates unnecessary detail. Both works take account of the tremendous revolution in Luke-Acts study in the last decade.

Military Chaplaincy Retreat Scheduled

The only cost will be for food. For further information contact Darryl Sparling (799-1767) or Thaine Ford (799-0210).

Just Because Its June

The following is a list of the major events for Seniors and graduate degree candidates through and including Commencement.

Senior "Get-away"

The Seniors will mass in the Speer Library parking lot at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, May 31, to begin their bachelor's holiday. They will return at around 3:00 p.m. on Thursday, June 1. The site of this time of fun, relaxation and fellowship will be the Bedford Inn, in Cape May, New Jersey. The Rev. Mr. Thaine Ford, Seminary Th.M. candidate and Commander in the United States Navy, is graciously allowing the Seniors the free use of his property.

The $5 fee must be given to Mel Knight by May 15.

Dinner-Dance

Seniors, their wives, and dates are encouraged to attend a dinner-dance, from 7:30 p.m. to midnight on Thursday, June 1. The event will be held at the Far Hills Inn on Routes 202-206 in Somerville, New Jersey. There will be a choice of menus featuring chicken jubilee or roast sirloin of beef.

Senior Class Vice-President Szabi Nagy has planned an interesting program, but one which allows the Seniors plenty of time just to "relax and talk." President McCord will be the featured speaker. Princeton University's Footnotes will provide musical entertainment, and the Ish Phillip's Band will play music for dancing.

Checks, marked for the dinner-dance, should be made out to "Michael Pulsifer," and sent to him at 205 Moore Street, Princeton. Or, checks may be given to Szabi Nagy. The deadline is Saturday, May 27.

Communion and Breakfast

There will be a Service of Holy Communion on Sunday, June 4, at 8:00 a.m., for Seniors, their wives, and dates. President McCord has invited this group to breakfast in the Campus Center Refectory following the service. There will be no charge.

Baccalaureate

The Baccalaureate Service for all degree candidates will be held at the First Presbyterian Church, Princeton, at 4:00 p.m. on Sunday, June 4. The preacher will be the Rev. Dr. Peter K. Emmons.

Dr. Emmons retired this Spring from the presidency of the Board of Trustees after 19 years in that office. A graduate of Princeton University, Dr. Emmons came to the Seminary in 1912. He served pastorates in Catasaqua and Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, and in Trenton, New Jersey, between his graduation from the Seminary in 1915 and his call to the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Scranton, Pennsylvania in 1927. He retired from Westminster in 1958.

A member of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. from 1929 to 1958, Dr. Emmons was the Board's President for seven years. He holds honorary degrees from Washington and Jefferson College, Grove City College, and Princeton University.

All degree candidates must wear cap and gown. Hoods are not required.

Alumni Day Banquet

Alumni Day will be held on Monday, June 5. The theme is "The Future of the Christian Mission." The highlight of the day will be an address by President McCord, "Whither American Protestantism," at the Alumni Banquet at 6:00 p.m. in the Campus Center Refectory.

Seniors and their wives are traditionally invited as guests of the Seminary to the Alumni Banquet, and most Seniors attend. Candidates for the Th.M. and Th.D. degrees are also invited. These arrangements will be confirmed through special correspondence from Mr. Arthur Byers, Secretary of the Seminary. The regular ticket price is $2.50 per person.

The highlights of the remainder of the Alumni Day activities are listed in "The Weeks Ahead" section of this issue.

Commencement

The 155th Annual Commencement will be held in the Princeton University Chapel at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, June 6. All degree candidates should arrive at 10:10 a.m. to line up for the processional.

There will be approximately 95 B.D. and M.R.E. graduates in the Class of 1967. Th.M. and Th.D. candidates will raise the number of degrees awarded to about 165.

The Commencement speaker is the Rev. Dr. John Davis McCaughey. He is Professor of Biblical Studies and Master of Ormond College, Melbourne, Australia. Dr. McCaughey has held this professorship since 1954. His post as Master of the College is the equivalent of the deanship of a theological faculty at an American university, or the presidency of a seminary.

Before going to Ormond College, Dr. McCaughey was active in the Student Christian Movement in Britain. From 1948 to 1951 he was Study Secretary of the SCM and editor of the periodical, The Student Movement. He had earlier served as Associate Study Secretary and as Irish Secretary of the SCM. In 1949 he was a member of an SCM commission studying the place of the church in a college or university community.
